BLATEST FROM WASHINGTON.

Special telegrams to the Dispatch. Washington, April 22, 1870.

Sensational Rumors. The sensational paragraphs sent hence yesterday about the alleged warlike difficulties between the United States and Spain have been attributed to an agent here for the Wall-street gamblers. The evidence to-night is that they were sent by a person supposed to be insane, one who says his name is Porter, and who spent a good deal of money in private telegrams yesterday. It is claimed by some, nevertheless, that he is in the interest of the Wall-street agents, and that there is method in his madness.

The Tariff Bill. If the House shall be engaged upon the remainder of the tariff bill for a time proportionate to that consumed upon that part of the bill already passed upon it will be full six weeks before the bill is finally disposed of in that body. Already there are unmistakable indications that the various combinations against the bill will be sufficiently strong to defeat or re-commit it to defeat of the measure.

The Tax Bill. The tax bill will cover over 300 pages of printed matter, and it is estimated by wellinformed members that the House will be engaged a month upon that bill.

The Funding Bill. The funding bill will probably occupy two weeks in the House. So that none of these leading measures will be out of the way before the 1st of July, and the probability is that Congress will not adjourn before the 1st of August.

General Shenck to-day called the attention of the Ways and Means Committee to the fact that Secretary Boutwell was very anxious that speedy action should be taken on the funding bill. It was agreed to have a special meeting to-morrow evening to dispose of it.

The Alabama Claims. A telegram, purporting to come from London, is published to the effect that the British Government is in possession of information that President Grant and Secretary Fish have had serious differences respecting the negotiations for settling the Alabama claims, which will cause Mr. Fish to withdraw from the Cabinet. There is authority for saying that there is not the slightest ground for the above-quoted statement. There has been no difference in views on the Alabama claims question on the part They are entirely harmonious on the subject, as will be seen when the official documents shall be made public. Supreme Judge. As anticipated in these dispatches several lays since, the President has nominated Judge Humphreys, of Alabama, to be judge of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, made vacant by the appointment of Judge Fisher as district atterney for the District of Columbia.

The Washington Mayoralty. Washington city politicians have lately attempted to induce Secretary Boutwell to declare his preference for one or the other of the Republican aspirants for the Mayoralty, and by so doing influence the clerks n the Treasury Department, but the Secre-ary declines to interfere. Lake Superior Iron. Commissioner Delano to-day decided that any company or person delivering Lake Superior iron ore to a furnace company, and receiving pig iron in exchange, must regard the transaction as a sale, as must also the furnace company, and both must enter the sale upon their revenue returns.

Appointment of a Stenographer. Quite an interesting debate took place in the Senate this afternoon upon a bill to provide for the appointment of a stenographer for the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia. It was conceded by senators from States where stenographers are appointed to report proceedings in courts that a large amount of expense was saved in the time expended upon witnesses and consequent decrease in expenses of jurors, fees, etc., by the employment of stenographers, who take down testimony as rapidly as it is uttered. The controversy was as to the mode of paying these stenographers-whether they should be paid salaries out of public funds or by fees to be taxed in the cost bill; and on this question the bill was recommitted to the committee. Minister Brown.

"AMELIA COURTHOUSE, April 14, 1870.

"In justice to the Gallego Fertilizing Company I will state that I used 600 pounds of your fertilizer last year on tobacco on one acre of very poor land; sowed it on the hennest grass on the 13th of Juwe and planted the tobacco on the 17th. The to-bacco grew off slowly, but continued green through the entire drought, which lasted until the 23th of September, and when I cut the tobacco I found it fully equal to that raised on rich land with the same amount of bought fertilizers besides farm-pen and stable manure. I sowed the land the Woodin wheat (which is a late kind of wheat) on the 23d weeker, and it is looking well land in Woodin wheat (which is a late kind of wheat) on the 23d become, and it is looking well, and bids fair to make a fine crop.
